

Key Vocabulary

Word(s)	Definition
Passover	A Jewish festival that remembers when God freed the Israelites from slavery in Egypt
Unleavened	Bread made without yeast, so it is flat. Jewish people eat this bread at Passover
Exodus	The journey of the Israelites leaving Egypt, led by Moses. Exodus is also the name of the book in the Bible that tells this story.
Muslim	A person who follows the religion of Islam
Islam	A religion that teaches people to worship one God (Called Allah in Arabic)
Ramadan	A special month for Muslims when they fast (don't eat or drink) from sunrise to sunset and pray more often.
Sawm	The Muslim word for fasting, especially during Ramadan.
Adhan	The Muslim call to prayer that is sung or spoken from a mosque to invite people to pray.

Exodus 12:1-8,
15-20, 13:3
The Passover

Luke 22: 14-23
The Last Supper
The Eucharist is linked with the Jewish celebration of Passover.

Encounter

Jesus was Jewish and grew up with Jewish religious laws, beliefs, worship and life.

The Sabbath day is a Holy day and is celebrated in the synagogue and in Jewish homes.

Jewish religious words are written in Hebrew (the original language of the Torah and other sacred Jewish/ Christian texts).

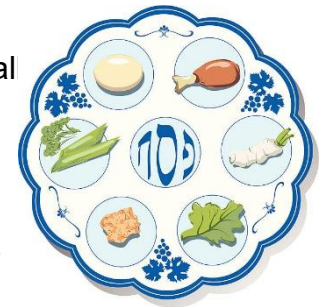

Passover

Passover is a week long celebration and the most important festival in the Jewish calendar.

Jewish people celebrate with a special meal called

During the meal, the story of Exodus is told.

They have a special plate of food called the Seder Plate They attend the Synagogue at the beginning and end of Passover.

Islam

Muslims believe in one God, the creator.

The five pillars of Islam are duties Muslims need to do in their lifetime.

Muhammed is the final prophet (messenger) chosen by God to receive the Qu'ran and is the role model for how Muslims should live their lives.

Islamic art is linked to sacred writings.

